FIFTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

18th May 2025

I give you a commandment:
love one another.

I was leading a class on Baptism the other day trying to describe to the children light and darkness. Children are fascinating because although they hadn't completely wrapped their head around metaphors, analogy and parable, they were still able to speak profoundly of what it meant to be like light and the things that communicated darkness. At Baptism you're given the light from the Paschal Candle and the prayer is "Receive the light of Christ...this child of yours has been enlightened by Christ...May they keep the flame of faith alive in their hearts." We entrust this light to parents to be kept burning brightly.

John's Gospel plays with this motif of light and darkness, and this weekend begins with 'When Judas had gone.' Although a short line, it's meaning puts in motion the activity of darkness. Judas, in the shadows, moves to betray the light who is Christ. If we recall back to the beginning of John's Gospel it says, "The Word was the true light that enlightens all people."

Jesus, who came into the world to enlighten all people, and who we honour Jesus in our rituals and Sacraments engage the light, but ultimately, we're called to promote the light. They say that 'darkness is the absence of light', and within the Christian context, I think it's a call for people who have been enlightened by Christ to truly model his example as often as possible. Much like the other saying, 'bad things happen when good people do nothing.'

A lot of bad things are happening in the world as we speak. I lament my limitations seeing the pain that is out there and not being able to respond to all of it. Amidst all the darkness of this world, maybe we might be able to provide a bit of light to those around us. Perhaps we can contribute to the removing the darkness in our homes and social circles.

In fact, it's a mission we were given at our Baptism. Since we were given the light of Christ, and then Confirmed it's presence at Confirmation, we now take the torch out into the world. We can keep it burning brightly by sharing it. How will we pass this light onto someone new this week?

Readings at Mass

First Reading

Acts 14: 21-27

Paul and Barnabas went back through Lystra and Iconium to Antioch. They put fresh heart into the disciples, encouraging them to persevere in the faith. 'We all have to experience many hardships' they said 'before we enter the kingdom of God.' In each of these churches they appointed elders, and with prayer and fasting they commended them to the Lord in whom they had come to believe.

They passed through Pisidia and reached Pamphylia. Then after proclaiming the word at Perga they went down to Attalia and from there sailed for Antioch, where they had originally been commended to the grace of God for the work they had now completed.

On their arrival they assembled the church and gave an account of all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith to the pagans.

Gospel

John 13: 31-33, 34-35

When Judas had gone Jesus said:
'Now has the Son of Man been glorified, and in him God has been glorified.
If God has been glorified in him,
God will in turn glorify him in himself, and will glorify him very soon.
'My little children,
I shall not be with you much longer.
I give you a new commandment:
love one another;
just as I have loved you,
you also must love one another.
By this love you have for one another,
everyone will know that you are my disciples.'

Responsorial Psalm

Psalm 144(145): 8-13a

R/ I will praise your name for ever, my king and my God.

The Lord is kind and full of compassion,
Slow to anger, abounding in love.
How good is the Lord to all,
compassionate to all his creatures R/

All your creatures shall than you, O Lord,
and your friends shall repeat their blessing.
They shall speak of the glory of your reign
and declare your might, O God,
to make known to men your mighty deeds,
and the glorious splendour of your reign. R/

Yours is an everlasting kingdom;
your rule lasts from age to age. R/

Second Reading

Apocalypse 21: 1-5

I, John, saw a new heaven and a new earth; the first heaven and the first earth had disappeared now, and there was no longer any sea. I saw the holy city, and the new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, as beautiful as a bride all dressed for her husband. Then I heard a loud voice call from the throne, 'You see this city? Here God lives among men. He will make his home among them; they shall be his people, and he will be their God; his name is God-with-them. He will wipe away all tears from their eyes; there will be no more death, and no more mourning or sadness. The world of the past has gone.'

Then the One sitting on the throne spoke: 'Now I am making the whole of creation new.'

Gospel Acclamation

John 13: 34

Alleluia, alleluia!

I give you a new commandment:
love one another as I have loved you.
Alleluia!
